AUGMENTED ENGLISH TRANSCRIPT OF THE GERMAN VERSION

of the

SIMENAUER/SIMMENAUER FAMILY GENEALOGY

Covering the Post-WWI Period to the Present in italicized print by transcriber, Judy (Jutta) Simenauer Inger. A copy of the German genealogical record covering the period 1780 to post-WWI and compiled by the late psychoanalyst, Dr. Erich Simenauer (VI,C,3), was given to the transcriber by his grandniece, Sulamita Simenauer Konar (VI,D,3,1)). The English version bears italicized comments compiled and updated by the transcriber.

- Additional Notes and Memorabilia can be found in the APPENDIX.
- See AFTERWORD & ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.
- Names of both Male and Married Female Simenauers are in "BOLDED" (highlighted) lettering.
- Abbreviations: b.=born; dd.=died; m.= married; b'd.=buried; O/S=Upper Silesia.
- Additional Bracketed ([])data was added to the translation of the original by the transcriber.
- Towns and/or cities listed after names do not necessarily denote places of birth, but frequently places of residence.
- The three generations in the Pre-World War II genealogy are recorded as: 1, 11, 111 for the ten (10) siblings; A, B, C for their children; and 1, 2, 3, et seq. for their grandchildren. The updated, transcribed English post-World War I generations are in italicized print, based on written information received from their descendants, and are listed as 1),2),3); i), ii), iii), a,b,c; aa, bb, cc, et.seq.

APPENDIX Notes and Memorabilia

Dr. Erich Simenauer (VI,C,3) Berlin psychoanalyst, compiled this Simenauer Genealogy prior to WWII. He had a psychiatric clinic in Berlin, which the Nazis took from him. He emigrated to, and practiced in, Nicosia, Cyprus, and later Tanzania, Africa. After the war he returned to Berlin where he was reinstated in the Institute of Psychiatry and had many of his writings on psychology published. He also authored the foreword and biography of Rainer Maria Rilke (translated into English and available in the Fifth Avenue & 42nd St. Braneh of the New York Public Library). Dr. Simenauer died in 1986 and is buried in Berlin.

PLEASE NOTE: None of the descendants of the Simon Simenauer listed on page 1, 3.b.1)-8) is listed in I-X of the genealogy, although there must have been many. This Simon is not the same Simon as the one listed in X on page 18 of the Genealogy..

PLEASE ALSO NOTE: It is reasonable to conclude that there exist far more Simenauer/Simmenauer descendents than those listed in I - X, Peter Christopher Simmenauer, e.g., being one of them. His lineage is, therefore, attributable to Moritz Simenauer and his daughter, Kaethe Simenauer of Breslau (see p. 1 (3,6, ii)).

• Nathan Simenauer (II.A.): Several of Nathan's sisters are not listed in the Genealogy, such as, c.g. Rosa Zweig, the mother of author/playwright Arnold Zweig (The Case of Sergeant Grischa (catalogued in the U.S. Library of Congress), Education Before Verdun, both still available at the 42nd Street Public Library, New York City, etc.; and his correspondence with Siegmund Freud (listed in the Fifth Avenue & 42nd Street, New York City Library computer, but not available), translated into English and published in Great Britain, Canada and the United States. Arnold's father and Stefan Zweig's father were brothers. Arnold went to Palestine in the 1930's and lived in Haifa where he died in the mid-1960's. Stefan emigrated to Brazil and there committed suicide with his wife in the early 1940's.

The other sisters of Nathan not listed are: Klara Markgraf, who survived the concentration camp, outliving her Aryan husband, and who dd. in the 1960's at almost age 91 in Frankfurt. He was an auditor of the Dresdner Bank in Frankfurt, A.M. Their son, Fritz Markgraf, retired, also worked for the Dresdner Bank, has children and is said to be living in the Frankfurt area; Elfie Niendorf (2nd marriage to Dr. Niendorf); Elsa Bandman (one son, Hans, last known to be living in Hamburg); Hedwig (one daughter); and Martha Rosenzweig (daughter Gisela). None of the sisters could be alive any longer. The whereabouts of their children are not known.

Wilfred (born Wolfgang) Simenauer (VII, C, 1., a.) is a professional retired concert cellist who played principal cello in orchestras in London, Liverpool, Sydney and New Zealand, as well as solo broadeasts, quartets and concertos for 43 years. He lives in Wellington, New Zealand, and has actually recently visited Simmenau (now Szymonkow — although listed in the 1965 World Book Atlas as "Szymanow, Poland" situated between Breslau and Oppeln), the place after which the family was named.

- Wolfgang Peter Simenauer (II,A,2),ii)) became a professional musician and soloist at age 11. He won the International Mozarteum for clarinct at 18 and joined the Israel Philharmonic after auditioning for Leonard Bernstein in 1951. In 1959 he joined the New York Philharmonic as Associate First Principal Clarinctist and Solo E-Flat Clarinetist after auditioning for Dimitri Dimitropolous. He also was a member of the Philharmonic's Woodwind Ensemble and on the faculties of the Mannes School of Music and Montclair College of Music and taught Master Classes. Peter is accomplished on the violin and saxophone, as well. He retired in 1998.
- An Edith (Judith) Simenauer resided in Israel. The transcriber met her in the early 1950's. She said her family came from the Frankfurt area. She may be a descendant of Elias Simenauer (page 2, 7)).
- A Fritz Simenauer (wife Kaethe) resided in New York City. The transcriber knew him in the mid-1950's. He also was from the Frankfurt area and dd. in his 80's in the 1960's. A son died in infancy in Frankfurt. Oscar & Ruth Simenauer knew him quite well. He may have been a descendant of Elias Simenauer (page 2, 7).
- The renowned conductor, Wilhelm Steinberg, was the cousin of Kurt Simenauer's ((VIII,C,1.)
 mother-in-law. He assisted Arturo Toscanini when he came to conduct the opening concert of the Palestine Philharmonic Orchestra.
- An article in the June 3, 1998 issue of Aufbau (Literature) states that Arnold Zweig's heretofore 1939 unpublished essays, Das Alpenwerk, are about to be published in two volumes in Berlin, covering, among other political and social topics, his reason for emigrating to Palestine, and also his Freundschaft mit Freud (Friendship with Freud). The section displays two photographs of Zweig. Das Alpenwerk was originally scheduled to be published in 1939 by McGraw Hill, U.S.A.
- The following Simenauers/Simmenauer are recorded in Germany (but not in the genealogy) to have fallen in WWI. Source of information: Peter Gephard, biographer of the book: Lothar Simenauer Eine Deutsch-Juedische Lebensgeschichte. (They may have been descendants of Simenauers listed on page 1)

Notes & Memorabilia

 According to Peter Simmenauer, of Melbourne, Australia, the following Simenauers/Simmenauers were mentioned on Internet; however, no addresses or further information was furnished:

Erik Hirschfeld, Malmo, Sweden, mentions an Ernestine Simenauer, nee Goldmann, b. 11.6.1871 in Kempen, and a Berthold Simenauer, b. 20.7.1871 in Kochlowitz, both deported from Breslau to Tormersdorf and Grussau, respectively. Source: A book on 1800 deportations from Breslau, in Polish with a German summary. Michael Libermann (Canada) mentions a Nathan Simmenauer of Kattowittz, who married Rosalie Koepper. They had 2 children, Clara, b. 25/08/1888, and Moritz (Shlomo), b. 12/21/1892; and Wilhelm Simenauer, 28/12/1907 b. in Zabje. He died in Lima, Peru and was married to Kaethe Neisser, b. 20/03/1903 in Gleiwitz and died in Bogota in 1989. Their children are Ursula, b. 04/11/36 in Beuthen and Vera, b. 06/11/1939 in Lima.

Rachel Barth's (USA) great-grandfather [no name provided] moved to Berlin. His son [no name provided] moved to Hamburg to marry.

At an exhibit on Jewish athletes in Berlin covering the period 1898-1939 with photos, documents and films at the Jewish Department of the Museum of the Martin-Gropius-Bau, a book by Felix Simmenauer was to be published by Edition Hentrich entitled: Errinerungen an die Bar KochbaMakkabi Turn und Sportler Bewegung (Memoirs of the Bar Kochba-Makkabi Gymnasts and Athletes Movement).

AFTERWORD & ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Compiling the information to augment and update Dr. Erich Simenauer's pre-World War II Simenauer/Simmenauer family genealogy was, indeed, a privilege and a labor of love. I did my utmost to adhere as closely as possible to the original German version of the genealogy and to record and interpret, to extent possible, additional data provided me via correspondence and responses to questionnaires. It is gratifying to know that Erich's efforts to preserve the record of the family were not in vain, for they formed the basis that made it possible for me to continue where he left off. In working on this genealogy, I had the feeling that the members of this family had been briefly recalled to life to remind their descendants of their existence. Most off all, I feel that through this update they, and especially the many Holocaust victims of this family, were finally acknowledged and accounted for.

I cannot help but marvel that, considering the circumstances that sent so many of us to the far corners of a world in turmoil, in the final analysis, we "socked it" to Der Fuchrer and that there are so many Simenauers/Simmenauers around. What would our ancestors say if they knew? I hope they have been watching and feel vindicated.

My profound gratitude and thanks (in alphabetical order) go to the following for their help and co-operation by patiently responding to my incessant queries and furnishing priceless supplemental data and material. My apologies to those I may have inadvertently omitted to mention, as well as for errors, typos and omissions.

I wish all of you good health and for G-d's blessing to follow you and your loved ones all the days of your lives. Hopefully, we shall meet one day. Being kept apprised of additional family members you may learn of will be greatly appreciated. Also, a brief account of how you (or your parents) managed to escape, emigrate and resettle to a new life, with copies of ancestral photographs (if available) would make a nice sequel to this genealogy.

Translated from the German: Fritz Joseph Simmenauer's letter to his son, Bernhard

Breslau, 16.5.39

My beloved lad!

Your letter has finally arrived and our happiness knows no bounds. Actually your dear mother should be responding, but I believe I am permitted to express my joy by doing so in her stead. What delights us about your letters is that not only do they reflect the substance of your character, but the manner in which you depict your impressions. Your are forever in our thoughts and your countenance is before us. To be able to express oneself and span time and presence is worth everything. We parents are fortunate to have such well developed children as are needed in these times. Time and again your concern about us becomes apparent and you will soon have the opportunity to practically apply your love for us. The time is growing closer when we will have to pack our suitcases, although I would rather not now express our feelings with regard to that. This is something that we must put off for another time. Today's letter, as well as those to follow, will primarily deal with practical matters which I begin herewith.

Foremost: Freight. We will have freight through Knauer for approximately 300.00 Marks less; in other words, for only about 1,100.00 Marks. We are toying with the idea of having items, such as machines and other less frequently utilized items (such as furniture, carpeting, dinnerware, etc.) sent to Australia direct. From our point of view, it will be difficult to come up with the expenses for necessary additional items such as hand baggage (wardrobe, underwear/linens) to be transported from port to destination. Additionally, the travel-time of the lift from Sch. I Schlesien (Silesia) to A. [Australia] is of, at least, three months' duration and would naturally be connected with unnecessary expenses. We could somehow manage to get by during our. hopefully, short remaining time in Sch. Gerda will find something and I will try to put my tailoring experience to use for necessary income. Mother will have the housekeeping to take care of. You could have the lift remain in the port or have it put in storage. Please think this over and write us. In the card we sent you, you will learn that we had to vacate our flat, which, naturally, brought about changes in our living accommodations. In any case, we want to have the lift items readied for customs clearance and crating in order to get it moving. We will also need to know the exact location the lift will be going to. I will inform you of our new address. As I already wrote you, Gerda will definitely come with us. We have discussed this at length and it will. therefore, be your task to also requisition entry for Gerda. You may have to get her a temporary position in order for her to gain entry. We are unclear as to your understanding regarding the funds problem. There is nothing forthcoming to us from any source and we are limited to only four dollars per person upon leaving. We do not believe that we will be getting aid from any society or organization. The fee for the passage is, to the best of our knowledge, non-negotiable. But this is not our main concern just now, because we are hopeful that something from the other side, or en route, will be forthcoming. In my last letter I asked you whether you could obtain visas for us from the Chinese consul. It seems it is easier to get passage to there [China] if one has a visa. Additionally, there are other advantages to this. The Dutch Consulate is said to be amenable to helping. Please inquire of Amsterdam with regard to this. We are still eager to obtain passage. Those in Munich have had favorable results, although it is not yet known just when they can leave. In any case, we are ready to undertake our departure at any time.

We will have your pictures ready shortly and you can count on receipt of them soon. Also, the books will leave shortly. I will mail your things franked in https://high-denomination.postagestamps from which I hope you will be able to derive benefit. Have you already received the parcel from Walter? This will be all for today. Do not let us wait too long with your reply. Continue to stay well.

Many hearty greetings and kisses,

Father

Translated from the German: Kaethe Simmenauer's letter to her son, Bernhard (Undated)

My beloved, good lad,

My heartfelt thanks for your letter with best wishes for my birthday. Because your letter did not arrive in time, we thought that you might have forgotten your old mother. You write of radiant sunshine and splendid days. We cannot state likewise. Here it rains from morning till night and it is cold, which does nothing to enhance one's mood. Vati [Dad] has informed you of the situation. You did not respond to my question with regard to what the package that you had sent us contained. Even though we never received it, we are very curious. We are pleased to learn that you are learning to drive. One can never know too much. We have just been able to sell our bedroom set, although it was not at the price agreed upon. Surely something will be found. The Gesslers must also liquidate their lodgings by October latest. It is an unpleasant task... Auntie Emmy has become very rickety and Uncle Max has difficulty walking. The Hepners also went through a lot. The brother of Mrs. Hepner, who used to be the owner of A. Schaeffer, Ring, jumped from a window and died. I am sure you can imagine the consequences of such a stressful situation. Tomorrow we will look for a room and hope to find something soon. If only we can have passage soon. It is not nice here any longer when one no longer has a decent place to live with facilities for cooking. Yes, it is a blessing that we have so much inner peace which makes it easier to cope. Above all, to be able to work again and rest ones bones is all we really need. We hope that that shall soon come to pass. Now, about Elle. Elle is with us till the end of the month, but only half days. For the mother it must be a relief. Her suffering greatly affected those around her. As usual, Elle sacrificed herself. On the 1st, she will go to the tailor Bethke on Goethe Street. I believe you know him, too. She always says, "When you are all in Australia you can send for me." I promised here we would. So, I will close, as this letter should be on its way. Be well and write soon. Heartfelt wishes and kisses from your

Ever-loving

Mother.

Cielchen sends her regards. How come your address is different? Have you moved to another place? Write us about it.

Best regards also from Elle and kisses from your sister

Gerda.

Zentrum für Antisemitismus-Forschung

Auch die Technische Universität Berlin, Fachbereich 1 (Kommunikations- und Geschichtswissenschaften), mit seinem 1982 gegründeten Zentrum für Antisemitismus-Forschung bittet um die Hilfe unserer Leser. Als einziges dieser Art in Europa befaßt es sich außer der interdisziplinären Grundlagenforschung mit der deutsch-jüdischen schichte, insbes. im 20. Jh., mit Emigration und Holocaust. Es existiert bereits eine große Bibliothek und ein Archiv. Gesucht werden Erfahrungsberichte zum Exil, aber auch solche über einen Besuch in Deutschland, über die Aufnahme in der früheren Heimatstadt, über Sorgen in bezug auf Deutschland oder auf eine Wiederkehr des Antisemitismus und schließlich über Erinnerungen aus früherer Zeit.

Für die Kinder der Überlebenden findet zweimal im Jahr ein vom Sinai-Zentrum geleitetes Selbsterfahrungs-Wochenende statt, jeweils im Herbst und im Frühjahr.

In Berlin bestehen schon zwei Selbsthilfe- und Gesprächsgruppen: Für Überlebende, die während der Verfolgungszeit noch Kinder waren, sowie für nach 1945 Geborene, deren Eltern verfolgt wurden. Die Beratungsstelle ist telefonisch zu erreichen: Montag und Mittwoch, 14.00-20.00 Uhr, Dienstag, Donnerstag und Freitag, 10.00-14.00 Uhr.

Heinz-Galinski-Kreis gegründet

Auf Initiative des langjährigen Vorsitzenden der Berliner Pressekonferenz. Herrn Karl-Heinz Maier, gründeten Ende Januar führende Persönlichkeiten des Berliner öffentlichen Lebens den Heinz-Galinski-Kreis. Ziel ist hauptsächlich die Beschäftigung mit den Problemen des Rechtsradikalismus in Deutschland. Vorsitzender der 16 Persönlichkeiten umfassenden Arbeitsgemeinschaft ist Klaus Schütz, ehemaliger Regierender Bürgermeister von Berlin und früherer Botschafter der Bundesrepublik Deutschland in Israel.

Das Alpenwerk entstand 1939 als Auftragsarbeit für den amerikanischen Sachbuch-Verlag McGraw-Hill. Doch der Verlag erwies sich als vertragsbrüchig und verzichtete auf eine Veröffentlichung.

Zweig verglich seine Arbeit mit H.G. Wells' Geschichte der Welt und Hendrik van Loos' Geschichte der Meuschheit. Betrachiet man Zweigs Arbeit heute, drängt sich ein Vergleich mit Frank Thiess Arnold Zweig besichtigt sein Jahrhundert:

Unbekannte Essays

verzichtete er auf eine strenge chronologische Ordnung, was sich durchaus nicht als Nachteil erweist. Als Tiefpunkt bewertete er den Dreißig-jährigen Kneg und als Höhepunkt der Neuzeit die Französische Revolution und ihre Folgen.

Eindringlich wies er auf die sich verändernden Lebensstile um 19. und 20 Jahrhundert hin.

Auf die militärischen Ereignisse im Ersten Weltkrieg ging Zweig nicht ein; umso ausführlicher aber auf die politi-sche Entwicklung nach 1918. Mit dem Völkerbund und den Völkerbungen von Bestrebungen von Wilson bestanden Hoffnungen auf eine friedlichere Welt. Die Entwicklungen Deutschland sah Zweig äußerst pessimi-stisch. Dem Generalstab kreidete er Revanchebestrebungen an. Wie wir heute wissen, be-gannen die Planungen für den Zwei-ten Weltkrieg bereits 1925. Ausführlich befaßte sich Zweig mit dem "Tausendjährigen Reich"

Im Palitsung Freque

bot Zweig einen Abriß der Geschichte und bewies, daß die Konflikte zwischen Juden und Arabern durch die Haltung der ritischen Mandatsmacht vorprogrammiert waren. Die unbestreitbaren Aufbauleistungen würdigte er ebenso wie den Einfluß sozialistischer Ideen bei den üdi-schen Einwanderern. Zweig wies in diesem Essay auf die Verflechtung des jungen Staates mit Foto: Aufbau-Archiv dem Weltgeschehen hin. Für ihn stellte Israel ein Kraftzentrum der Juden dar. Die Grenzen für Israel sah er darin, daß nur ein kleiner Teil der Juden Aufnahme finden konnte. Bei der Niederschrift - 1939 - gab Zweig der Hoffnung Ausdruck, daß dem Volk Israel eine glückliche Zukunft bevorstehe und verwies auf den Einfluß von Karl Marx

Innerhalb dieses Textes ziehen sich private Erinnerungen wie ein roter Faden durch die Aufzeichnungen. An Hand zahlreicher Einzelheiten betonte Zweig die Bedeutung der Psychoanalyse. Die persönliche Wertung ersetzt eine wissenschaftliche Beurteilung, an der Zweig nicht gelegen war Er hegnilote sich mit Beisnielen der modernen Seelenheilkunde, die der französische Neurologe Jean Martin Charcot hegrijndete

Für Zweig hat Freud das Seelenleben des modernen Menschen als "dünne Haut" über einer "barbarischen Urkraft" entdeckt. Was keinem Publizisten mit gleicher Brillanz gelang, war die Verbindung der Psychoanalyse mit dem politischen Massenwahn des Faschismus. Heldentöchter Uber Antifaschisten wurde etliches geschrieben, doch wie die Kinder von Widerstandskämpferinnen Widerstandskämpfern den Terror der Nazi-Zeit, Verhaftung und Ermordung der Eltern erlebten, welche Spuren es bei ihnen hinterließ - dieser Komplex war bisher kein Thema. Das bemerkenswerte stilistische Niveau Zweigs erlaubt auch eine Parallele zu Egon Friedells Kulturgeschichte der Neuzeit. Im Unterschied zu Friedell ist für Zweig die Geschichte eine Folge gesell-schaftlicher Prozesse.

Zweigs Fixierung auf den Alpenraum und damit auf Zentraleurona zieht sich wie ein roter Faden durch seinen Essay. Er bewertete den Kontinent als Teil der nicht Weltzivilisation aber Weltzentrum. Da sich Zweig auf wichtige Epochen und ihre Auswirkungen auf spätere Generationen konzentrierte,
